English character

One of the most striking features of English life is self-discipline and courtesy of people of all classes. There is little noisy behaviour and practically no loud disputing in the streets. People don't rush excitedly for seats in buses or trains but take their seats in queues at bus stops in a quiet and orderly manner.

The Englishmen are naturally polite and are never tired in saying “Thank you”, “I’m sorry”. If you follow anyone who is entering a building or a room, he will hold a door opened for you. Many foreigners comment on a remarkable politeness of English people.

The British don’t like displaying their emotions even in dangerous and tragic situations and ordinary people seem to remain good-tempered and cheerful under difficulties.

An Englishman doesn’t like any boasting or showing off in manners, dress or speech.

Sometimes he conceals his knowledge: for example, a linguist may not mention his understanding of a foreigner’s language.

The English prefer their own house to an apartment in a block of flats because they don’t wish their doing to be overlooked by the neighbours. There is an English saying: “An Englishman’s house is his castle.”

Many English men help their wives about the house in many ways. They clean windows on Saturday afternoon; they often wash the dishes after supper in the evening.

Sunday is a very quiet day in London. All shops are closed and so are theatres and most of cinemas.

Londoners like to get out of town at weekends. The sea isn’t far – only fifty or sixty miles away and people go down to the sea in summer or somewhere to the country for skiing in winter.

Questions:

1. What are the most striking features of English life and character? What situations show it?
2. Why is there little noise on the streets? How do people behave themselves?
3. What don’t English people like to show off?
4. Where does an Englishman prefer to live? Why?
5. How do men help their wives?
6. What kind of day is Sunday in Britain? Are cinemas and theatres open on this day of the week?
7. How do the English spend weekends?

Mass Media

Mass media is one of the most characteristic features of modern civilization. People are united into one global community with the help of mass media. People can learn about what is happening in the world very fast using mass media. The mass media includes newspapers, magazines, radio and television.

The earliest kind of mass media was newspaper. The first newspaper was Roman handwritten newsheet called «Acta Diurna» started in 59 B.C. Magazines appeared in 1700's. They developed from newspapers and booksellers' catalogs. Radio and TV appeared only in 20th century.

The most exciting and entertaining kind of mass media is television. It brings moving pictures and sounds directly to people's homes. So one can see events in faraway places just sitting in his or her chair.

Radio is widespread for its portability. It means that radios can easily be carried around. People like listening to the radio on the beach or picnic, while driving a car or just walking down the street. The main kind of radio entertainment is music.

Newspapers can present and comment on the news in much detail in comparison to radio and TV newscasts. Newspapers can cover much more events and news.

Magazines do not focus on daily, rapidly changing events. They provide more profound analysis of events of preceding week. Magazines are designed to be kept for a longer time so they have cover and binding and are printed on better paper.

Questions:

1. What kinds of mass media do you know?
2. What was the earliest kind of mass media?
3. Why is the television so exciting?

4. What is the reason for widespread use of radios?
5. What advantages do newspapers have over the other kinds of mass media?
6. What is the difference between a newspaper and a magazine?

Our planet Earth

The planet Earth is only a tiny part of the universe, but it's the only place where human beings can live. People always polluted their surroundings. But until now pollution was not such a serious problem. People lived in uncrowded rural areas and did not have pollution – caused by machines. With the development of crowded industrial cities, which created huge amounts of pollutants, the problem has become more important. Today our planet is in serious danger. Acid rains, global warming, air and water pollution, and overpopulation are the problems that threaten human life on Earth. Our forests are disappearing because they are cut down or burnt. If this trend continues, one day we won't have enough oxygen to breathe.

The seas are in danger. They are filled with poison: industrial and nuclear wastes, chemical fertilizers and pesticides. The Mediterranean is already nearly dead; the North Sea is following its fate. The Aral Sea is about to disappear. If nothing is done about it, one day nothing will be able to live in the seas. Every ten minutes one kind of animal, plant or insect dies out forever. If nothing is done about it, one million species that are alive today may soon become extinct. Air pollution is another serious problem. In Cairo just breathing the air is dangerous – equivalent to smoking two packs of cigarettes a day. The same holds true for many Russian cities.

Factories emit tons of harmful chemicals. These emissions have disastrous consequences for our planet. They are the main reason for the greenhouse effect and acid rains.

And even greater threat is nuclear power stations. We all know how tragic the consequences of the Chernobyl disaster are.

Fortunately, it's not too late to solve these problems. We have the time, the money and even the technology to make our planet a better, cleaner and safer place. We can plant trees and create parks for endangered species. We can recycle litter. Individuals and groups of people can work together to persuade enterprises to stop polluting activities.

5. Критерии оценивания для промежуточной аттестации

Уровень учебных достижений	Критерии оценки:
«5»	выставляется студенту, если обучающийся демонстрирует (глубокое знание учебно-программного материала, умение свободно выполнять задания, усвоивший взаимосвязь основных понятий дисциплины; способный самостоятельно приобретать новые знания и умения; способный самостоятельно использовать углубленные знания
«4»	выставляется студенту, если обучающийся демонстрирует полное знание учебно-программного материала, успешно выполняющий предусмотренные программой задания, показывающий систематический характер знаний по дисциплине и способный к их самостоятельному пополнению и обновлению в ходе дальнейшего обучения в вузе и в будущей профессиональной деятельности
«3»	выставляется обучающемуся, обнаружившему знание основного учебно-программного материала в объеме, необходимом для дальнейшего обучения, выполняющего задания, предусмотренные программой, допустившим неточности в ответе, но обладающим необходимыми знаниями для их устранения;
«2»	выставляется обучающемуся, имеющему пробелы в знаниях основного учебно-программного материала, допустившему принципиальные ошибки в выполнении предусмотренных программой заданий.
